Curious to know what life was like in 1890, the year Vienna was established?

The United States stopped minting $1 and $3 gold coins and 3 cent pieces. Also, Rock Creek Park in Washington, D.C. was established when President Benjamin Harrison signed legislation creating natural preservation in the wooded valley.

Proper Battery Recycling

"Lithium Ion Battery." You might have come across this phrase while scanning the owner's manual of your newest tech gift from last holiday. Sure, rechargeable batteries are great and quite common. However, in a world of constant updates and pressure to keep our hardware relevant, we generally lack the time to consider certain hidden risks which leads to dangerous consequences.

Many rechargeable batteries fall under a specific category of battery known as Lithium Ion (also referred to as Li-ion battery or LIB). The lithium ion battery found in your electronics such as cell phones, laptops, iPads, tablets, iPods and digital cameras is probably the most familiar to you.

Recycling is an important responsibility, but tossing a lithium ion battery into your recycling is harmful. It is especially risky when Li-ion batteries are mistakenly put into a recycling bin and end up bouncing around in the back of a dry recycling truck. Pressure or heat, particularly during the summer, can cause them to spark and set off a chain reaction. This leads to disaster when that battery is in the back of a full recycling truck, surrounded by dry paper and cardboard. In fact, lithium ion batteries are one of the leading causes of recycling truck fires.

A suggested cause for improper disposal of Li-ions is likely due to a common misconception. When an item states it is "recyclable" many assume that you can recycle it with your Single Stream Recycling; this is not the case. When an item is "recyclable", that simply means it can be recycled in some way; it doesn't mean it can be put in with your Single Stream recycling. Rechargeable, lithium ion batteries can be recycled, but only at specified locations. Cell phone batteries can be dropped off for recycling at a variety of places, including the Department of Public Works counter right in Town Hall.

COMMENT FROM THE COUNCIL TABLE

By Carey Sienicki, Town of Vienna Councilmember

Ladies and Gentlemen, your attention please!

It is a phrase that we are all accustomed to hearing for the finale under the big top, three-ring circus or captivating magic show.

This month marks the start of new technology, so Vienna's ladies and gentlemen have the opportunity to acquire "Vienna Alerts." This new notification system gives realtime information on special Town events, weather alerts (geo-targeted), emergency announcements, public safety education, government closures, Town service reminders and more. Residents can receive customized messages that go to your preferred method of communication, i.e. mobile app, text, e-mail or a telephone call, throughout the year. Simply "login" to manage your account, or "sign-up" to set up a new account. I expect "Vienna Alerts" will be a valuable tool as we are moving into the new school year.

Speaking of the new school year, I am pleasantly surprised to see how many families are now choosing to walk and bike children to school. The end of last year marked several successful walk and bike to school events. Vienna Elementary School even garnered 70% of the student population biking on one day! The Town and new Pedestrian and Bicycle Advisory Committees are encouraging walking and biking; under the Transportation and Safety Commission they have safely expanded the pedestrian and bicycle network. This has inspired me to take more opportunities to exercise or make those quick jaunts or errands across Town by walking or biking. I am amazed that walking or biking time can be comparable to driving, and noticing different views, items, and details along with a little exercise make for nice benefits. September is Bicycle and Pedestrian Awareness Month in Virginia, so I encourage all residents to take advantage of our bicycle and pedestrian network, and to pay extra attention to our littlest citizens as they adjust to their new routes to school.

One final note regarding the Town notification system, you may choose to also subscribe to the Vienna Police Highlights. I am always astonished reading the number of vehicular accidents that are deemed "failure to pay full time and attention." September is a month that is full of activity, as many people return from their "lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer" and pastimes to get back to the "daily grind" of work and school. In reality, we can all be preoccupied at one time or another, hurried by new schedules or increasing daily events. As the "dog days" of summer come to an end and our Town citizens move into the next school year, a little patience and extra caution is especially important.

Hope to see you out and about around Town, on the roads and sidewalks a bit more this year, but of course with all our attention.

Where Does My Water Come From?

By Desiree DiMauro, Community Enhancement Commission

You wake up in the morning, stumble to the sink to brush your teeth, and then jump into the shower. Have you ever wondered, where does all this water come from? Well, if you live in the Town of Vienna, your water comes from the Potomac River above Great Falls! It's then piped to the Corbalis Treatment Plant. This plant treats up to 150 million gallons of water per day! Once the water is ready for drinking and home use, it's piped to the residents of Vienna, as well as nearly 1.5 million other people in Northern Virginia by Fairfax Water. Fairfax Water tested over 360 samples taken in the Town of Vienna to help ensure the quality of the water shipped to your home in its state-certified laboratory. It takes approximately 131 miles of pipe to bring drinking water to residents within the Vienna water service area. Each spring, the water distribution system in Vienna is flushed (you'll see the fire hydrants being flushed). Also annually, the Town of Vienna produces a Water Quality report to inform you about the quality of our drinking water (it's posted on the Town website). This high-quality water brought directly to your home ensures clean drinking water and alleviates the need for those wasteful, single-serving plastic water bottles. Did you know it takes 3 liters of water to make a 1-liter plastic bottle of water? So fill up your reusable bottles at your kitchen sink and help protect the environment!

September marks Virginia's Annual Bicyclist and Pedestrian Awareness Month.

This month we celebrate the Town of Vienna's growing bicycle and pedestrian network and remind motorists to share the road.

Did You Know?

In April 2014, the Mayor and Town Council established the Bicycle Advisory Committee (BAC) and Pedestrian Advisory Committee (PAC) to provide citizen input in planning pedestrian and bike infrastructure improvements, and promoting pedestrian and bike initiatives in the Town of Vienna. These advisory groups report directly to the Transportation Safety Commission, which then reviews any recommendations and reports to the Mayor and Town Council. The BAC/PAC meet the last Tuesday of the month at 7 pm. Feel free to email tsc@viennava.gov for more information. Highlights of BAC/PAC efforts include:

•Recommending improvements to bicycle parking in the Church Street business district. •Recommending temporary detours for bicyclists using the W&OD trail during large Town events. •Evaluating expansion of bike parking requirements for new commercial and multifamily construction that is not covered by the MAC. •Applying for the League of American Bicyclists (LAB) Bicycle Friendly Community certification. •Developing a Master Bicycle Plan	Developed recommendations for the Town's first Pedestrian Master Plan, which was approved by Council in February.     Applying for "Walk Friendly" recognition, a national recognition program developed to encourage towns and cities across the U.S. to establish a high priority for supporting safer walking environments.     Building an inventory of the Town's sidewalk projects to help prioritize connecting and expanding the Town's sidewalks.

Safety Tips

Last year, 102 people died and 2,352 were injured, walking or riding their bicycles on Virginia roadways. Increasing your knowledge of roadway regulations and safe behaviors can help reduce those numbers. Join the Town of Vienna as we work to educate our community during September. Here are some basic tips that help make roadways safer for all users:

Drivers	Cyclists	Pedestrians
<ul> <li>Allow a safety cushion. Slow down, wait until the roadway is safe for passing cyclists and walkers, and pass with at least 3 feet of clearance.</li> <li>Yield right-of-way to pedestrians in marked and unmarked crosswalks.</li> <li>Minimize your distractions. Distracted drivers are more likely to hit bicyclists and pedestrians.</li> <li>Do not assume ill intent and become frustrated by bicyclists or people walking or running.</li> </ul>	•Cyclists can protect themselves by wearing a helmet, bright clothing, using flashing lights during day and night, and securing loose pant legs or other loose clothing. •When permitted to be on sidewalks, bicycles should yield the right-of-way to any pedestrian and give an audible signal before overtaking and passing a pedestrian. •To find more info, visit: http://www.wodfriends.org/accessibility/safety/ and http://www.virginiadot.org/programs/bk-laws.asp#Rights and Duties	Pedestrians can improve safety by wearing bright colors during the day and reflective material or blinking lights at night. Light colored clothing is slightly helpful in making you visible at night, reflective tape or reflective fabric is much better.      Pedestrians must travel against traffic when walking in the road, use sidewalks whenever available, and use marked crossings whenever possible. # The Shop Vienna Website Connects Shoppers to Visible and Invisible Local Businesses

By Patricia Anderson, Town/Business Liaison Committee

This article is a celebration of our own Town of Vienna entrepreneurs and the role the Shop Vienna website plays in making local small businesses, including solopreneurs, more visible to the shopping public.

The Urban Dictionary defines the term solopreneur as "an entrepreneur who works alone running a business single-handedly." Many solopreneurs in the Town of Vienna work from home offices and because they have no store front, they may be invisible to those who are trying to shop locally. The Shop Vienna website offers a solution.

Solopreneurs who have business licenses with the Town may register with Shop Vienna and create their own searchable webpages with information about their businesses, including photos, first look contact information, specials for local residents, coupons, and job listings. The cost for the listing is modest – only $25 per year. The Town is currently upgrading the website for mobile devices and search engine optimization, making it an even better marketing tool for Vienna businesses and an even better search tool for potential customers.

A quick perusal of the Shop Vienna website may surprise you with the number and diversity of locally owned small businesses. The website currently lists over a thousand businesses, including 12 accountants, 15 attorneys, 19 automotive shops, 133 repair and personal service establishments, and 75 restaurants. Whether you stroll down Church Street or your neighborhood street, you are likely passing locally owned small businesses. The next time you are searching for a retailer or service provider, let the Shop Vienna website connect you to a local business.

Small business owners are imaginative, optimistic risk takers. Town of Vienna is unique in the support it gives to small businesses through the Shop Vienna website, ribbon cuttings and sponsorship opportunities at Town events. Show our local businesses you appreciate them by shopping locally in Vienna. Find those local businesses by logging onto the Shop Vienna website at

Everything You Want to Know about Roundabouts

Have you ever been caught in the long backup on Locust Street SE waiting to turn onto Park Street? In the afternoon, waiting traffic can back up for a city block!

Help is on the way! Vienna's first mini-roundabout will be installed this fall. Cars traveling on Park Street will have to slow down and the stop sign for Locust Street traffic will be removed. Motorists will move through the mini-roundabout slowly without stopping, eliminating the traffic backup. Pedestrians will also be safer because the crosswalk will be moved back so those walking will be more visible to motorists. The below article, published by Federal Highways Administration, should help answer many of the basic questions and concerns you may have on how to use the roundabout if you are a pedestrian, bicyclist or traveling in your vehicle.

Similar mini-roundabouts have been successfully installed at hundreds of locations throughout the country. A "before" traffic study is now complete and an "after" study will be conducted to measure the traffic improvements in Vienna

Roundabouts can make intersections safer and more efficient for all road users. Slower speed and fewer conflict points make them safer, and the ability for vehicles to continue moving makes them more efficient.

Here are some facts about roundabouts:

- They are generally circular in shape, with traffic flowing in a counterclockwise direction around a center island.
- Entering traffic slows down on approach to the roundabout and yields to pedestrians at the crosswalk and traffic already circulating in the roundabout.
- Roundabouts come in different sizes mini, single lane, and multilane.
- Roundabouts are proven to significantly reduce severe crashes those resulting in injury or loss of life by more than 80 percent!

Steps for successfully navigating roundabouts:

• For Drivers

- o Approach. Slow down on approach to the roundabout and yield to pedestrians that may be present in the cross walk.
- o Enter. At the entry line, yield to any vehicles already in the roundabout then enter when there is a suitable gap in traffic. At multilane roundabouts, choose the correct lane (based on signs and pavement markings) on approach and enter that lane in the roundabout.
- o Proceed. Continue around the center island in a counterclockwise direction and do not stop in the roundabout. In multilane roundabouts, follow the pavement markings, and do not change lanes and pass other vehicles while circulating.
- o Exit. Upon coming to the correct exit, signal and proceed out of the roundabout. Yield to any pedestrians at the crosswalk.

• For Bicyclists

o Bicyclists may ride in the roadway through the roundabout, obeying the same rules of the road as motor vehicles, or proceed along a side path and cross at the marked pedestrian crosswalks.

• For Pedestrians

- o Use the sidewalks or side paths provided around the perimeter of the roundabout. After deciding to cross, ap proach the marked crossing and wait for vehicles to yield.
- o Cross the first direction of traffic to the splitter island, wait for vehicles.

For more information about roundabouts, visit http://safety.fhwa.dot.gov/intersection/roundabouts/

Residential Construction within the Town of Vienna-Things You May Want to Know

By Bill Murray- Town of Vienna Construction Inspector

It is no secret that the Town is undergoing upgrades and renovations. Currently, there are 97 active residential construction sites in some stage of progress.

Talented and caring builders, many of whom are Town of Vienna residents themselves, have begun reconstructing new homes in place of the deteriorating homes. During the process you may observe some unfamiliar activities and I would like to provide some insight into what to expect when a new home is being constructed.

The building process is a well-planned and thorough process involving many entities. This includes staff from within the Town of Vienna such as Planning and Zoning, Public Works, and Parks and Recreation, as well as Fairfax County.

Builders can elect to demolish the old home by hand or by using machinery which requires erosion and sediment controls. Trees may also be removed prior to erosion control installation. Demolition typically involves a large track hoe excavation machine if not done by hand. It munches and crunches its way through the home and then loads the rubble into trucks for hauling. This can be quite a sight, and viewing from a safe distance is usually permitted. Town agencies closely monitor the site throughout the entire process. The black fabric silt fence you see around the sites is intended to filter larger particles of soil runoff. It is not a wall or dam type of control, but a filter fabric which allows fine particles of soil and storm water to pass through. This can create brownish looking water and can sometimes be misinterpreted as mud running off site.

Town staff also makes sure that workers are adhering to the proper start and stop times for construction per the Town's noise ordinance. The mere gathering on site or in the area prior to or after those hours is not considered a violation of law. The Town Police Department enforces this code.

All builders in the Town of Vienna typically require the use of concrete trucks, cranes, dump trucks, and other machinery to demolish and construct a new home. This can be a bit of an inconvenience for residents but is an essential part of the building process. Having a bit of extra patience, understanding, and being neighborly can go a long way to ensure a great working relationship with the contractors and builders. The neighborly behavior is a two-way street, and it takes both residents and contractors to make sure the building experience is as painless as it can be. It is not a perfect science and issues can always be resolved if everyone involved is polite, respectful, and patient.

After a home is completed, it is checked again by Town agencies and Fairfax County to ensure it has been built as specified on the plans. The new grading of the lot should not result in any concentrated flow of storm water runoff, but merely sheet flow runoff.

As time marches on we all need to be mindful of the fact that structures deteriorate and need to be repaired or replaced. The Town government and staff work very hard to keep Vienna ranked as one of the top locations to live in the United States. It takes a village to progress and if we can all be patient and understanding with the temporary inconveniences, Vienna will forge ahead and continue to be great. For detailed information on residential construction, please visit http://www.viennava.gov/index.aspx?NID=1209.

THIS MONTH IN HISTORY

From the Vienna Newsletter Archives

September 2005: The law requires drivers to stop for school buses taking on or discharging passengers and to remain stopped until the passengers are out of the street and the bus is again underway. Please remember stop at the curb before crossing the street, cross at least 10 feet in front of the school bus, and to walk facing the traffic.

September 1995: The Church of the Holy Comforter on Beulah Road celebrates its centennial this year. Among the congregation in 1895 was Rev. Johannes Adam Simon Oertel, an Episcopal priest who gained fame as an artist and wood carver. His work is in churches and cathedrals as far as England and includes his most famous painting, "Rock of Ages."

September 1985: A Townwide traffic study is scheduled to begin this month. This professional study was commissioned by the Town Council to make sure that Vienna has adequate planning for the impact of traffic generated by the Vienna Metro Station and other developments. One principal criterion for the study is protecting the integrity of the Town's residential neighborhoods, as well as moving traffic.

September 1975: Town Council awarded a $310,404 construction contract to Owens and Dove, a Merrifield firm, for the improvements to the long awaited Malcolm Road-Lawyers Road Project in northwest Vienna. Malcolm Road will be improved from its present 18 to 20 feet width to 25 feet. Parts of Lawyers Road, adjacent to Malcolm Road, will be widened to a safer 30-foot width from its present 24-foot width. Both roads will include curb and gutter and some sidewalks. One of the most beneficial changes will be the increased sight distance on the two roads.
