Vienna Town Council Re-Adopts Emergency Ordinances to Continue Outdoor Business Operations for Restaurants and Commercial Activities

Vienna Town Council re-adopted three emergency ordinances this week which allow Town businesses to continue to operate under the temporary waiver of zoning regulations. The ordinances would allow outdoor business operations such as outdoor dining and other commercial activities in commercially and industrially zoned properties for public, semi-public, and private institutions to continue.

“The businesses in the Town of Vienna have been hit hard by the Covid-19 pandemic”, said Linda Colbert, Town of Vienna Mayor. “To allow the emergency ordinances to stay in effect until December will provide them an opportunity to continue to recover financial losses.”

The original ordinances were adopted last June to help businesses adversely affected by the pandemic and were re-adopted in March 2021 with an expiration date of September 1, 2021. The new re-adopted emergency ordinances will now be extended until December 7, 2021.
